Germans Lose Heavily In Kharkov Battle

Voters Will Select Candidates Tuesday At Primary Election

Lawrence county voters will go to the polls Tuesday, May 19, to engage in a primary that is highly important to the commonwealth but which has drawn little interest up to now. Candidates for governor, lieutenant-governor, supreme and superior court, congressman-at-large, congressman, general assembly and state and county committees are to be nominated.

The ballots this year are small and should require comparatively little time to count. Once counted, the ballot boxes and returns must be rushed to the court house to the elections board.

Since Pearl Harbor there hasn't been much argument about what the United States should do to a nation that sneaks up in the dark and takes a cut at you. ### Plan Moves To Thwart Gas Ration 'Chiselers'

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, May 16.—Determined to thwart "chiselers" and plug gaping loopholes in the present plan, Price Administration officials said today that a modified version of the sugar distribution scheme will be adopted July 1 for rationing gasoline on the east coast.

Well aware that the current system is "wide open" to violation and evasion, harassed OPA representatives disclosed that after July 1, new ration ration books will be issued bearing detachable "coupons" which filling station operators will be required to tear off, preserve and return to their suppliers in obtaining equivalent new stocks of gasoline.

At the same time, Price Chief Leon Henderson, acting on a suggestion by President Roosevelt, took drastic emergency action to offset flaws in the present system by authorizing the publication of the names of all gasoline ration-card holders, except members of the armed forces and law enforcement agencies.

Henderson warned that OPA officials and local rationing boards will "check" on holders of high-rated "B" and "X" cards and "invite" indignant possessors to return them post-haste to local boards and obtain cards providing for a smaller ration.

As the 8,500,000 motorists from Maine to Florida went through their second day of actual rationing, officials were frank to admit that the present system was drawn hurriedly to meet an emergency situation and was impossible to tight enforcement.

Ship Is Sunk Near Mouth Of Mississippi

(International News Service)
NEW ORLEANS, May 16.—The brazen exploit of an enemy submarine which penetrated to the mouth of the Mississippi river, there sinking a large merchant vessel only a mile and a half from the river's mouth, put seamen on the alert inshore today.

The American cargo ship rocked by tremendous explosions which were heard forty miles inland, was quickly converted into a mass of flaming bits and burned for hours before going down.

Twenty-seven members of the ship's crew were killed as three torpedoes ripped into the freighter near the Mississippi delta, eighth naval district headquarters announced yesterday.

Three sinkings in the gulf were announced earlier in the week.

Giant American-Made Tanks Are Big Factor In Drive On Kharkov

Moscow Says Russian Forces Make New Advance In Offensive At Kharkov—Germans Forced To Retreat In One Sector—Believe Russians Have Forestalled Hitler's Spring Offensive Program

By JAMES E. BROWN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, May 16.—Aided by screaming Storm-wik dive-bombers and fast-moving giant tanks built in the United States, the Russian army today smashed German attempts to stage an orderly retreat from Kharkov and advanced "several additional miles" toward the great industrial capital of the Ukraine.

In at least one area of the 70-mile wide battlefield, the Germans were forced to retreat in such disorder that tanks, heavy guns and other equipment were abandoned by the score while carefully laid plans for bridge destruction to slow down the Soviet advance went by the board.

In a single sector alone, 25 guns of large calibre were destroyed or damaged. This represents the equipment of five artillery regiments.

The general plan of the Kharkov battle appeared to be a series of independent tank engagements along the entire front supported by planes and infantry. Triple Turret tank giants of American design and manufacture are playing an important role.

Both sides are attempting to draw tank units into wedges where they can be destroyed, while flank attacks cut off the rear.

Losses Are Large
The losses can be judged by the fact that in a single action the Red army put 40 Nazi tanks out of action and set another 35 on fire.

The Germans are offering their main resistance at populated points converted into powerful defense bases. These are abandoned as soon as they are in danger of being surrounded by the Red army, which is penetrating behind the lines, cutting communications and destroying stores.

One enemy document was found ordering the 610th Reserve Infantry regiment to clear the eastern shore of an unidentified river in preparation for retreat to a point 3,000 yards west.

The order emphasized that arms and ammunition must be transported before any bridges were destroyed. The Russians cut off the regiment before the retreat could be carried out and not a single bridge was touched.

Lack of fresh news from the central front supported the Soviet contention that the Germans planned their spring drive to start at Kharkov and has thus been smashed before it could begin.

Russian guerrilla activity continues behind Smolensk however. One Soviet communiqué mentioned a mysterious collision involving four Nazi military trains in which 400 Fascists were destroyed.

Primary Campaign Is Nearing Close

Candidates In Final Efforts

State And National Candidates To Be Nominated In Pennsylvania Tuesday

NUMEROUS RALLIES SCHEDULED TONIGHT

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, May 16.—Candidates for the finishing touches on their campaigns today as the 1942 primary election battle drew near a close, prior to the balloting on Tuesday.

Sen. James J. Davis was slated to tour the hard coal regions today, visiting Mt. Carmel, Shamokin and Sunbury, before invading the Dauphin county stronghold of his organization opponent, Maj. Gen. Edward Martin, with a rally tonight at Harrisburg.

Martin and his running mates will end up their campaign today with visits to Uniontown and Greensburg. On Monday evening Martin will sum up the campaign's issues with a statewide radio speech from his home at Washington, while Davis will close his campaign with a final speech at Sharon the same evening.

Judge Ralph H. Smith will complete his campaign tonight with a rally in Northside Pittsburgh, where he was born, while Auditor General F. Clair Ross will speak today in Pittsburgh and then end his campaign with appearances Sunday and Monday in Philadelphia. The third major Democratic candidate for governor, Luther A. Harr, will continue the remainder of his campaign to Philadelphia, his home town.

Light Vote Feared
In addition to governor, voters on Tuesday will select party nominees for lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, a supreme and superior court judge, general assembly, congress and state, county and local committees.

Although approximately 4,625,000 registered voters are eligible to cast their ballots Tuesday, the actual vote in the state's first wartime election in 24 years is expected to total considerably less.

Because of the war the voters have shown little interest in the election and even the Republican primary, where the two gubernatorial candidates have waged a highly-personal battle, has been marked by the voters' apathy.

Second district—James Keislo, Elwyn Valley.

State committee, James A. Travers, New Castle; J. Frank Stevens, Neshaunook township; Ralph H. Braham, New Castle, and Ralph Audino, New Castle.

Center Of Interest
Interest in the various fights seems to center in the governor's race. Both general assembly candidates are unopposed. Congressman Louis E. Graham will probably have no trouble in being re-nominated as his opposition is merely nominal.

In the Democratic race there is a sharp contest on for the nomination in the general assembly in the first district and for state committee.

The polls open at 7 o'clock War Time Tuesday, May 19, and remain open until 8 p. m.

Japs Jump Them
As the three American bombers roared in over Rabaul at a height of 6,000 feet, the 17 Jap planes "jumped" them from 10,000 feet, Bombardier Miller told me today.

"I unloaded our bombs on the first run, but had to hurry the job because the Japs were diving on us," he said. "I got one as he turned in toward the nose of our bomber, where I sat. I smacked him right in the middle and down he went, in flames."

"Meanwhile, another Zero was racing up on the other side and he was taken full blast by Hansen. Down he went. It was a swell show."

"We got our tail shot up some and one hit our turret, but nobody was hurt and we all brought our ships back safely," said Co-pilot King of the Kahle plane. "We had to work fast unloading our bombs because the Japs were harrying us, but we gave them hell."

"Corporal Binnick, our rear gunner, got two Japs as they tried to pass him. We yelled with joy when we saw our tracer fire pouring into them. Captain Plint's plane got a bullet hole in one wing, but that didn't impede him and his plane is credited with getting three of the seven Japs in this scrap."

"We finally fought so far out to sea that the remaining Japs could not follow us any more."

"It was a swell day's work." And to that, Miller added: "We really gave 'em a licking."

New Castle and Lawrence County on Tuesday night, should remember that the results of the balloting are to be reported at the courthouse as soon as the complete vote has been counted in the precinct.

Spring housecleaning started this morning at the East Side and South Side branches of the public library. Walls and ceilings are being washed and it is expected that there will be a noticeable improvement in appearance of the rooms as well as a possible saving of electricity from the improved light reflection.

During the ceremonies at the Pennsylvania station this morning, as another large group of men left for induction into the service, a large hawk was noticed circling above. It was accompanied by a young one, much smaller in size, which followed the every movement of its parent.

But one new detour is shown in the local district on the Detour Bulletin issued by the Pennsylvania Highway Department for the period ending May 29. This is on route 285 between U. S. 19 and McMichael's Corners, on the road to Conneaut Lake. Detour is via Geneva, 12.5 miles. The road will be closed for an indefinite period. The Bulletin is kept posted in the lobby of The News.

His mind is partially made up by a Russian immigrant, Mischa (David Genker) who finds the United States an Utopia and in his thick brogue manner opens the eyes of young Powell. The play is an interesting treatise upon the American mind as well as the school play. The cast was a long one but there was a little meat for all the players and from the heavier parts down to the bits they were all handled well.

During the intermissions the high school orchestra provided musical interludes between the second and third acts. Miss Clara B. Harshuff, director was presented with a corsage of orchids by the cast.

Col. Johnson disclosed that forces at inland bases, which temporarily are inactive, are occupying their time by building and modernizing their camps as well as participating in strenuous maneuvers to familiarize themselves with fighting conditions in the commonwealth.

He had special praise for the way the American men have adjusted to the usual duties to the grim and serious outlook of war. A completely new spirit has evolved compared to the carefree manner evident several months ago, he said.

Filled With Fight
"They are filled with fight and determination," he declared. "It is a real go-get-'em attitude. The boys are anxious to get the job done as fast as possible."

The Colonel said the Doughboys now had forgotten their individual problems and were giving their best efforts to the common task. A tendency to form cliques among natives of respective states has all disappeared, he said.

"When the boys first arrived they always said they were from a certain state or a special city. Texans moved only with Texans and Californians only with Californians. That is all changed now, though, and the men are content to say simply that they are Americans."

"They have really developed a fine fellowship, a community and American spirit here where they are 8,000 miles from home."

successful effort to smash the Nazi Kharkov defenses, officials disclosed for the first time that the attack had definitely crippled Adolf Hitler's contemplated spring offensive in the Ukraine.

Complete evidence has been assembled, it was said, that the Germans were virtually all set for an attack from the Kharkov war line deep into the Ukraine and thence into the Caucasus.

Timoshenko's sudden onslaught took the enemy by surprise, however, and completely upset the German plans. Hitler and his generals, faced with grim reality in which "intuition" was to no avail, were compelled to send untold reserve troops into action in numerous threatened sectors.

The whole Nazi time-table was thus upset and the German campaign thrown into reverse.

Many Are Nazi Reserves
Many German prisoners taken by the Russians when the first Kharkov defense line was cracked under the initial impetus of Timoshenko's great attack have been identified as reserves.

They arrived on the front in February and March to replace seasoned troops who had been found incapable of carrying on further because of the rigors they had undergone during the long and bitterly cold Russian winter.

Depth of the Soviet penetration into the Kharkov area was shown in a report from a Russian tank commander revealing that his unit had captured one of the city's main collective farms, believed to be only a short distance from the metropolis itself.

The Germans had sent tank reinforcements to the farm to guard its precious supplies and avert its recapture if possible. Soviet forces seized it, however, and thereby cut off a valuable source of supply.

Latest official word said that Russian forces had taken several important new "key localities."

The bride was most attractive in her white wedding gown of white mousseline de soie, made with sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves with points-over-wrists, and the lace insertions extending from the waist in front, tapered off into two wide long train in back. This was set off with a veil of tulle, also pannelled with matching lace, extending into a long train. It was caught with a crown of sequins, and the double veil falling to her shoulders, was thrown off the face, at the close of the ceremony. She carried a crystal rosary, a gift of the bridegroom, and a white prayer book encrested with a cluster of gardenias and valley lilies tied with white ribbons. She wore a pearl necklace as her only jewelry.

As maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Dolores Pape, sister of the bride, wore a mist blue over-taffeta, toe length creation, with matching picture hat and lace mitts. Kenneth Donegan served his brother as best man. For the occasion, the church altar was beautifully embanked with palms and ferns, off-setting an arrangement of delphinium. Stately lighted candles completed the setting. Adding further to the impressiveness, appropriate music was provided preceding and during the service, by Frank Gribben, organist.

A breakfast followed at The Castleton, for members of the immediate families of the couple, and later this afternoon, Mr. Donegan and his bride departed on a few days wedding trip. They will be home to friends in their furnished apartment at 235 North Ray street upon returning.

ARE YOU A "CORD YANKER"

"Cord Yankers" disconnect electric appliances by pulling on the cord. One of these times they'll see the cord come, while the plug stays in the socket. With wiring and repair parts so hard to get these days, "Cord Yankers" are becoming very unpopular.

Besides, there's danger in "cord yanking" . . . . Worn cords and broken sockets resulting from frequent pullings may cause short circuits and blown fuses . . . . Loose connections are often responsible for radio interference, inefficient appliance and lighting operation.

Your electric appliances can be your most valuable allies in your home war effort—if you use them, and care for them properly. Remember frequent lubrication of motors—periodic check-ups by your service man.

RIGHT TO VOTE

RIGHT to vote is an important part of the American way of living, for which our soldiers are fighting on all fronts of the war. This right and privilege can be kept only by a people who think enough of it to USE it!

A small vote in Tuesday's primary will encourage those who hope Americans have lost their interest in freedom and democracy.

Make a large vote your answer. We urge all registered Republicans and Democrats, regardless of party or of candidate, to get out and vote in the important primary election on Tuesday, May 19th.

A vote at this election is a vote for victory on the home front! Vote—and get your family and your neighbors to vote—for Victory!

INTERNATIONAL TRUSTEES

Madagascar, it has been announced in Washington and London, while being used for defensive purposes by the United Nations during the war, will be "held in trust for France" and restored to that country. There need be no doubt of the pledge being kept.

The precedent thereby established is one of large and growing interest. As the war proceeds, and the free powers continue taking over enemy and neutral territory, as they doubtless will, Uncle Sam and John Bull may find themselves getting into the real estate trust business on a large scale. In fact, this is already true of Britain. When the show-down finally comes at the peace table, these two governments may be trustees for a quarter of the world. It would be one of the most remarkable situations in history.

BANISHING DISTRUST

As recently as two years ago it would have been unthinkable that the head of a South American republic should characterize the international policy of the United States as the "maximum incarnation of the democratic ideal." That is precisely what did happen under the dome of the Capitol at Washington when President Manuel Prado of Peru delivered identical addresses to the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Great is the pity that it required a global war to banish suspicion by southern republics of the Colossus of the North. Even the nations that have not completely severed their ties with the Axis distrust the United States no longer. These republics know fear, but it is fear of aggressor nations, which only association with Washington can markedly allay.

AN ARMY OF 8,000,000

During the last two months there have been three distinct estimates of the ultimate strength of the United States Army. The first called for 5,000,000 men, the second for 6,000,000, and the third, made a day or two ago by Representative Vinson, chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee, for an Army of 8,000,000 and a Navy of 1,000,000 men.

These are arresting figures for Germany, Japan, and also for the American people. An army of 8,000,000 trained men is an enormous army. When the war started Germany was on a full war basis. But her total army, exclusive of reserves, was considerably less than 4,000,000. The French army was slightly smaller. Britain's force, including reserves and all native troops, was less than 2,000,000. Even the Russians, with uncounted reserves, kept but 1,500,000 men under arms. The Regular Army of the United States at that time was 240,000 men, with 378,000 reserves.

And now this peace-loving nation is engaged in the task of producing what will undoubtedly be the greatest military organization the world has ever known. This means an offensive war. The planes are being turned out like clockwork. The tanks are running down the assembly lines. The ships are sliding down the ways. The whole vast might of the nation is being thrown into this tremendous effort.

The prospect of being compelled to meet the overwhelming power of this new force is one to bring dismay to the Axis. It spells inevitable defeat. But it also has a deep meaning for the American people, who cannot simply sit by and wish this gigantic new army into being. It can be produced only by means of a contribution from every home in the land—a son or two or three sons from one, longer hours of labor from another, volunteer services from a third.

It isn't enough to read the news of the day with unfeeling interest, to stand reverently when "The Star Spangled Banner" is played in the theater, to feel deeply about the whole unpleasant business and long for its end. Neither is it sufficient to glow with pride when word comes of the valor of young men in the fighting services. There are a thousand tasks to be performed on the home front, tasks involving work and sacrifice, and unless they are performed the Army of 8,000,000 will not be fully armed for triumph.

Headline of the week: "Petting Must Stop, Says Henderson."

Four R's of the schoolroom: Reading, 'riting, 'rithmetic and rationing.

Hitler had everything fixed up in Russia last fall for a big killing and then he struck out with the bases full.

Russians charge the Nazis have begun to use gas in the war. Hitherto most of the gas has been coming out of Berlin and Tokyo.

When the women get into the air corps what fun the headline writers are going to have writing about the "blonde bombers"!

Foreign diplomats in Washington have been granted preferred treatment in gasoline rationing. At home most of them wouldn't have any gas.

Hitler says the railroads will be better able to carry the supplies of his Eastern Army next winter. No doubt that is because the distance of the haul will be much shorter.

We note in the newspapers occasionally that some stern judge has deprived a speeding motorist of his driving permit for ninety days. The practice of speeding is now more reprehensible than ever. So wouldn't it be better to take away the rear tires for thirty days rather than the driver's permit?

TEACHERS AND PUPIL RELATIONS IMPROVE

During the past few years I have visited in a good many hundred elementary schools scattered through most of the states, in small and larger places. Compared with what I observed fifteen years earlier I observed the following conclusions:

1. The average school supervisor and principal is no longer a frightful person but a welcome guest among her teachers, whom she inspires. She is no longer a snooper, but a booster of the best.

2. The growth of friendly relations between teacher and pupils is marked. Most teachers are more understanding and sympathetic to children. More and more teachers are growing aware of the child's feeling as he tries to learn and realize that he learns best when he feels best, is free from fear of ridicule and humiliation, and enjoys successes. However, judging from some tragic letters I must read from parents, we have reason to wish for still more improvement in this direction.

3. Through the average child is set to read from a book too hard for him one can see in practically any elementary school building some teachers who put into the child's hands only the kind of text book he can read successfully. Gradually teachers are coming to the sensible conclusion that no matter in what grade a child happens to be he should be set to learn nothing harder than he can learn successfully. Gradually, too, teachers see that they should stimulate the brighter child by leading him to do what will challenge him.

4. In the primary grades, teachers are coming to realize that the child needs to learn the letters of the alphabet in order to learn to read and spell. Many a poor speller or poor reader, even in the second or third grade, gets letters confused or does not recognize a number of them. Phonics, too, are coming back. Why did they ever leave? Parents might properly prepare the child for entering school by helping him to recognize the letters of the alphabet, picking them out from pages of books, magazines and newspapers. It can be fun.

5. Many wise teachers are urging children to read to a baby brother or sister at home to amuse him but really to motivate the school child to read better.

6. Teachers are growing aware that the child is tied by heart-strings to his loved ones and that he brings his home to school with him. They are learning to appreciate and understand parents and to win their cooperation, learning to exercise the nice amenities of social grace toward parents. More parents are trying to be cultivated persons, ladies and gentlemen, in relation to teachers.

A list of books from which to read to the baby and young child may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Q. Do you still have a list of suggested names with their meanings for new babies?

A. Yes; to be had without cost to you by writing me in care of this paper enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

"X" marks the spot.

Some of our congressmen are demanding unlimited gas.

More gas for congress!

How about novocaine?

The "X" furore could have been prevented.

If every motorist was given an extra "emergency" card which would get a tankful in a real emergency, more motorists would have been satisfied with an "A" card.

The "emergency" card would call for a written explanation to the rationing board after it was used and fakers could be punished.

But that would be too simple.

So everybody rushed for "X" cards and "B-3" cards.

And lied their heads off.

And it wouldn't have been necessary if they could get an "emergency" card extra with an "A" card.

Thought for the day: Kiernan for gas rationer!

Contrary to the accepted belief of people who do not know them very well, some ministers are blessed with a delightful humor, quick wit and tolerance.

One minister in particular was known by a few of his parishioners to be fond of cherry brandy, and one of them in a mischievous frame of mind offered to present him with a bottle on condition that he fully acknowledge in the next issue of the church magazine.

Much to his surprise, the offer was promptly accepted and in due course the notice appeared in the magazine: "The vicar thanks Mr. McTavish for his gift of fruit and the spirit in which it was given."

Very often the truth about some things are not as scandalous as the gossip about them.

Let's see now. What was "cuddling" called 40 years ago?

"Dear Clara," wrote the young man when he got back to camp, "pardon me, but I'm getting so forgetful I proposed to you last night, but really forgot whether you said yes or no."

"Dear Will," she replied by note, "so glad to hear from you. I knew I had said no to somebody last night but had forgotten who it was."

Dr. Helen Morrison Haines said in an address on birth control in Hartford:

"It is hard to believe that a few short years ago we all shouted 'race suicide' as vigorously as we now shout 'birth control'."

What Has Become Of Belgian Congo Rubber?
Stewart Asks In View Of Present Scarcity
Recalls When South America Was Prominent

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Rubber rationing is immaterial to me. I'm one of a very few living Americans who never owned nor drove an automobile. I can use bits of twine in place of elastic bands. And I don't mind clumping around on sole leather heels. So what do I care personally?

Still, I must say that the necessity for rationing that particular kind of gum has puzzled me.

No doubt the war has shut off our East Indian source of supplies of the genuine article. Yet, within my recollection, the whole world's rubber came from the Belgian Congo on the African west coast.

What's become of the Belgian Congo? Maybe it was put out of business by the upper Amazon's competition. That region already was being tapped on a tremendous scale as far back as several years before World War I. Coming northward up the South American coast in 1921, my boat put in at the Brazilian port of Para (also known as Belém). Para was advertised then as our globe's chief rubber export source—raw gum from up the river.

Henry Ford was just starting a huge plantation of the trees. So were other Yankee interests. These cultivated trees ought to be yielding now as libitum, not to mention wild one, of which there are vast forests, just waiting to be tapped, free.

What's become of all that rubber, too?

Not New Questions
Well, I've asked these questions in print hitherto. They're chestnuts simply as my individual queries.

However, I never considered myself an expert. I merely considered it queer and let it go at that.

The other day in my mail, though, I ran across a mimeographed release from the recent testimony of Elliot E. Simpson, representing huge commercial rubber interests before a congressional committee in Washington, and this rubberite who doubtless knows what he's talking about says emphatically in the affirmative, exactly what I've been wondering.

"The president and the American people," testified expert Rubberman Simpson on Capitol Hill.

Rationing And Reason
WASHINGTON, May 16.—THE INEVITABLE relocation of the individual lives of the citizens from a governmental curtailment of gasoline as drastic as has been made was of course, foreseen. But people generally did not begin to realize it until after the restrictions actually went into effect. Complete realization has not yet come—but it will.

"TERRIFIC INCONVENIENCE and even hardship, will certainly accompany complete operation. Nevertheless, there will be no public resentment nor complaint—providing only that two things are done. First, there should be given to the country a simple, truthful and concrete statement of the facts. Second, the rationing must be done fairly and competently. If these requirements are met there will be no protest. If they are met the people will—and should—accept the sacrifices docilely and with cheerfulness."

EVEN IF THEY are not met, the sacrifices will be made—first, because there is no alternative, and second, because it is unthinkable that in a time of war there should be upon the part of the civilian population any disposition to revolt against any measure which the Government considers essential for winning the war. However, it will be conceded that a clear understanding of the necessity coupled with intelligent administration will promote civilian morale and insure co-operative compliance. It hardly will be contended that either of these things has as yet been established. So far as popular understanding is concerned, it is practically non-existent. Nor is this because of lack of ability to understand. Not at all. The reason is because, quite obviously, Government officials do not themselves understand. Either that, or they are unable to explain. What they have done is to make a series of conflicting, confusing and misleading statements which have muddled the public mind instead of clearing it.

MR. HENDERSON says one thing. Mr. Ickes says another. Various bureaucrats chime in with others and the publicity agencies rush out a lot of bewildering releases. Some inspired journalistic and radio spokesmen assert that the restrictions will be relaxed in a month; others declare that in a very short time they will be made more rigid. We are told on one hand that there is plenty of gasoline and that rationing is in order to save rubber and get the cars off the roads. We are told on the other hand that the gasoline shortage is very acute, due to the sinkings by enemy submarines and military requirements abroad. And then we are told that there is no shortage at all but that

The World and the Mud Puddles

TOO MANY CROOKS
In the Washington Merry-Go-Round, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and Leon Heald, chief of the OPA are conducting an Alphonse-Gaston comedy, each endeavoring to shift the responsibility for possible inflation upon the other. Henderson insists that the Treasury should back a tax measure bigger and more drastic than the one contemplated, while the Secretary of the Treasury declares it is up to the OPA to institute an all-embracing price control order.

It is high time that these two officials of the United States should get together and toss politics out of the window and attempt some plan which they can back in concert. Only by such action can inflation be halted in its tracks.

Money is available and more spending certain. Collections, especially those of old debts and installment purchases, have been excellent. High taxes have been in the hands of the workers for a considerable time. Most of the workers are debt-free and eager to spend their money. Inventories of durable and of soft goods are dwindling. The stage is all set for inflation and no matter how high taxes go, prices will soar and inflation follow unless the lid is clamped down hard.

The weakness of tax legislation is in the fact it is always predicated upon political expediency instead of economic necessity. Political fear prevents the enacting of tax legislation which will tax all classes. The fear is overcome, politics forgotten during the emergency, the possibilities of an all-inclusive tax bill are virtually nonexistent.

NEW ORLEANS.—Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator terms America's health and welfare services the third line of defense: "The military forces and industry constitute the first two lines. But all efforts of the military, all the work of production would go for naught if the essential services which make life endurable at home should break down."

NEW YORK.—Donald M. Nelson, war production chief lays down the law: "From now on this nation will make only those things which are absolutely needed in our war economy."

NEW YORK.—Bernard Baruch, so-called elder statesman and advisor to President Roosevelt turns down an "X" card entitling him to unlimited gasoline: "The country needs gasoline for vital services. I guess I can hoof it."

WASHINGTON.—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt laughingly turns thumbs down on slacks: "I don't think slacks would be becoming on me. You have to be young and thin to wear slacks—and if you are, I think you look very nice."

Let the children share the sugar rationing with the rest of the family. Don't give your share to the children. You will only make them selfish and inconsiderate of others like you do. If for their health, they need more than adults, find out how much and make them stick to that amount.

Auxiliary Fire Group Organizes

Officers Are Elected As Organization For Duration Is Effected Last Night

Members of the Second Ward Auxiliary Firemen, the first organization to start training in Pennsylvania under the defense program, organized for the duration of the war at a meeting last evening, and elected officers.

J. L. Boughter was named president, Walter Mayberry, secretary, and Russell Tate, treasurer. Meetings will be held on the third Wednesday of each month, the first meeting to take place next week at Park avenue fire station, when instruction will be given in any new phases of fire defense work.

The group has been divided into four sections, each of which has been assigned to a certain territory on the North Hill, which they will serve in the event of an air raid. Joe Zeigler and William Bowen, instructors, were presented with defense bonds for their work in instructing the group, the presentations being made by Henry Stone.

Rescued Youth Fails To Survive

(International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore., May 16—Injuries received by James Harper, 16-year-old Hill Military academy cadet from Yakima, Wash., when crushed behind a 1,500-pound boulder in a cave on Rocky Butte, proved fatal Friday, five hours after he was rescued from his rocky prison.

Harper's legs and thighs were crushed by the big stone which held him in a vice for 12 hours. The pressure stopped circulation in the lower half of his body.

For Congress Louis E. Graham of BEAVER, PA.

Louis E. Graham is able, conscientious and of a high order of integrity, and at ALL TIMES, a REAL AMERICAN. One of the most diligent men in Congress, and is so recognized by his colleagues, and well informed members of the Press in Washington.

ON BOTH OCCASIONS, when the bill to "PENSION CONGRESSMEN" was up for a vote, Mr. Graham VOTED AGAINST THE MEASURE.

His foundation has been amply laid, for the duties incumbent upon him as a Member of Congress.

TWELVE YEARS as District Attorney of Beaver County.

THREE YEARS as Special Deputy Atty. General of Pennsylvania.

FOUR YEARS as United States District Atty. Western District of Pennsylvania.

THREE YEARS as Special Asst. Attorney General United States in vote fraud cases.

In his wide range of experience he has had some 38,000 criminal cases, of which two hundred and ninety-seven have been murder cases, and many cases having to do with Communist and communistic actions.

He is a distinct credit to the people of the 26th District, and merits the full confidence of his constituency.

A member of the powerful Judiciary General Committee of Congress, he is probably its most useful member, due to his experience as United States District Attorney.

In these most perilous times, he is steady, and alert to those measures that have to do with the present and future of this country, that it may survive the ordeal through which it is now passing, and our people, all of them, may fully trust his judgment and his implicit honesty.

LEADING CASES

A decision of the State Supreme Court will probably result in a Lawrence county case becoming a leading case, that is a precedent which may be followed in similar cases in the future.

The case is that of Dominick Pezzulo, administrator in the estate of Charles Pezzulo versus Carmen D'Ambrosio. Originally there were two cases, one by Dominick Pezzulo as the parent of Charles Pezzulo and one for the deceased boy, Charles Pezzulo was killed February 15, 1940 while sled riding near the overhead bridge in Hillsville. A truck of the defendant's hit the boy and killed him.

The first trial of the cases brought a disagreement. The second trial brought a verdict of $377.50 for the parents and $3750 for the father as administrator. The second case was brought on the grounds that damages might be awarded to the administrator of a minor. A decision of the Lawrence county court upheld the contention that such a suit could be brought but when the verdict was returned for the $3750 a motion for a new trial was made on the grounds that the measure of damages was too heavy. The motion was granted but the plaintiff appealed, through Attorney Alvah M. Shumaker.

The Supreme Court by Justice Stern held the damages to be proper and over ruled the lower court's granting a new trial. The case is now closed as the Supreme Court orders the record remitted to the court below and judgment entered.

OPEN BIDS

Bids for the wiring of the court house and for new fixtures were opened on Friday morning by the county commissioners. Two bidders entered, Chamberlain and Cline and Marvin Co. The contracts will be awarded later.

Anna Jurina appointed minority inspector for the third precinct of the Eighth Ward, no election having been held in 1941.

Clara De Carbo, appointed majority inspector for the first precinct of the Fifth Ward, vice Josephine Pulano.
Florence Grecco, appointed minority inspector for the first precinct of the Fifth Ward, vice Rose Fulano.

A. L. Conn appointed judge of elections for the second precinct of the Second Ward, vice D. S. Long.

John W. Cox appointed judge of elections for Wilmington township, first precinct, vice Frank L. McClure.

Sugar Stamp No. 1 Void After Today

WASHINGTON, May 18.—The OPA reminded consumers today that stamp No. 1 in their war ration book may not be used to buy sugar after Saturday midnight. Until then, it will permit purchase of one pound of sugar, but thereafter it automatically becomes void since grocers may not accept a ration stamp once the period for which it is designated is expired.

After midnight tonight and until midnight May 30, consumers must use stamp No. 2 in making sugar purchases.

Make Reduction In Gasoline For Canadian Tourists

Little Gasoline Available For Any Tourists Making Visit To Canada

In view of the increasing gravity of the gasoline shortage in Canada, due to the exigencies of the war, gasoline rations for tourists entering this country has had to be drastically reduced. New Castle Motor Club reports. A statement says:

We recently advised you that United States motorists visiting Canada for more than 48 hours might obtain from the Canadian Customs Officer at the border a gasoline license and ration coupon book permitting the purchase of 20 units of gasoline, representing 100 Imperial gallons under the present quota.

Now a new order of the Oil Controller abolishes the issue of the 20-units coupon books to tourists after May 14, 1942. It provides that, if a United States or foreign car tourist proposes to stay in Canada long enough to need more gasoline than he has in his tank at the time he enters the country, he will be given at the port of entry a ration book permitting the purchase of only 4 units of gasoline. At present a unit represents 5 Imperial gallons, but its value may be changed at any time as circumstances require.

No more than one of these 4-unit coupon books will be issued for any one car in any one year, and the Canadian Customs Officer will stamp the vehicle license to show that a coupon book has been issued. A motor cyclist may obtain a one-unit ration book under the same conditions.

The responsibility for not running short of gasoline is up to the tourist himself. If he were to run out of coupons he would be given no more and would have to arrange some other method of transporting his car back to the United States.

Prior to the American Declaration of Independence, seven states had assumed independent governments, and four had drawn up written constitutions, while Massachusetts had adopted a provisional government.

MEXICO MOVES TOWARDS WAR WITH GERMANY

By ARTHUR CONSTANTINE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
MEXICO CITY, May 16.—The government of Mexico today moved steadily in the direction of war against the Axis, although hopes still existed that Berlin, Rome and Tokyo might avoid hostilities with "satisfactory" explanations for the sinking of a Mexican tanker by a submarine.
A declaration of war, prepared by Senator Leon Garcia, national revolutionary party leader, was ready for presentation to the Mexican congress whenever President Avila Camacho saw fit to give the go-ahead sign.

It was regarded as certain, however, that no declaration would be introduced until next Wednesday, the deadline set by Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla for receipt of replies to protests delivered yesterday through the Swedish government to the Axis capitals.

Will Check Gas Ration Cards Of Traffic Violators

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, May 16.—Acting at the request of the office of price administration, Gov. Arthur H. James today ordered the state motor police to check on the spot the gasoline ration cards of all traffic violators.

If they hold an "X" card entitling them to an unlimited supply of gasoline, a report will be sent to William H. Elsbree, chief O. P. A. attorney for Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia.

In addition, traffic law violators who hold an "X" card will be asked to explain the reason for their trip.

Governor James pointed out that emphasis is being placed on the "X" cards because the holders are in a position to buy unlimited quantities of gasoline without a record of their total consumption, while the holders of "A" and "B" cards are all limited as to the amount of gasoline they can obtain.

Union High Stages Final Performance

"Military Minstrels Of 1942" Second Presentation At Union Township School

Stage fright and other experiences of a "first night" performance were forgotten Friday evening when the second and final presentation of the Military Minstrels of 1942 was staged by the Union Township High School.

At 8:15 o'clock the curtain went up in the school auditorium, and a full house witnessed a fine performance, enjoying immensely the routine song and dance numbers and minstrel jokes. A much more snapper and natty air prevailed, and when the curtain fell, the cast of 140 entertainers was certain the job was "well done" and the show "well-received."

Richard Patterson, supervisor of the music in the school, was assisted by other school departments in the arrangements. Members of the faculty who also were in charge were: General chairman, Milton Pattison; publicity, Don McGraw; scenery, Thomas Salisbury; stage manager, Joseph Thompson; stage manager, Robert Cowher; programs, Dorothy McGraw; tickets, John Susko. Jean Barich directed the dances, and usters, included Anan Illich, Geraldine List, Emma Jane Davis, Betty Duncan, Lauretha Cameron, Marie Wheaton, Marian Colro, Betty Hoagland and Rose Marie Callahan.

This is the final production for the school before commencement exercises, and benefits from the show will be added to the band fund of the school.

CONSTELLATION DOES HER BIT IN THIS WAR, TOO

U. S. S. Constellation

Though 147 years old, the U. S. S. Constellation is doing her share to help the United States win this war. Admiral Royal E. Ingersoll, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, today utilizes the proud old frigate as an auxiliary flagship. Congress authorized the construction in 1794 of the Constellation which fought against French privateers in 1799 and was a combat ship in the War of 1812 and the Civil war. Later the vessel was used as a training ship by the Navy. President Roosevelt ordered the gallant old three-master re-commissioned in 1940 and sent back into active naval service.

Tops in U. S. and Aussie Amity

Allies in the strictest sense of the word are the Australian and American soldiers in the picture above. When the doughboy paid a visit to this Australian beach and became lonesome, the soldier from down under allowed him to repose blissfully in the lap of his girl friend. For the sake of U. S.-Australian amity, all parties concerned agreed to let a passing cameraman record the tableau.

When the night bombers come over, the 60-inch lens searchlight of the anti-aircraft battery goes into action. When it does, however, we know that a good many Americans have chipped in to buy one, for these searchlights cost about $30,000 each.

They throw a beam of 800 million candlepower more than 40,000 feet, or nearly eight miles. They are the eyes of the anti-aircraft batteries. We need plenty of them. So buy War Bonds every pay day and top the quota in your county.

Almost Everybody Agrees

EDWARD MARTIN

Will Make Pennsylvania A GOOD GOVERNOR

Good government doesn't just happen—it is secured only when the people themselves insist upon it—when they demand that their elected representatives have the ability to do the job—

This year is no time for political schemers—vacuous promisers—whispering plotters—Pennsylvania needs leadership as she never did before—

That's why Edward Martin is the man to nominate on Tuesday as the Republican candidate for governor—as a citizen—as a lawyer—as your State Treasurer and your Auditor-General—and as a soldier in your armies—he has proven his ability—

Your governor should be a man of action—a man who can say Yes or No—and mean it—a man who meets problems head-on—and solves them. That man is Edward Martin.

WE RECOMMEND—

THERE ARE ALSO OUTSTANDING LOCAL CANDIDATES RUNNING FOR NOMINATION THIS YEAR. WE RECOMMEND THEM TO YOUR CONSIDERATION.

Braves Scar Into Second; Pirates Lose

Stengel's Crew Surprises Cards, 2-1; Dodgers Whale Bucs, 8-3

GIANTS GO WILD, ANNIHILATE REDS

(International News Service) NEW YORK, May 15.—The Boston Braves have been getting some good hitting, better than fair pitching and have been hustling, and you can see the results of this combination in the National league standings.

They're in second place today, a none-too-secure second as they trail the Brooklyn Dodgers by 3 1-2 games and lead the Pittsburgh Pirates by only one-half game, but that is still the runerup spot, and up to now the Braves have been a tough ball club.

They have blown some close ones they might have won, and meantime have been taking their share of the big scoring games and the tough ones.

In the latter category comes that one of yesterday with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Jar Cards, 3-2

The Braves slammed out no fewer than a dozen hits of John Beazley and Harry Gumbert, bunched four of their hits to tie the score in the eighth, then won the game in the ninth, 3 to 2, by taking advantage of every break that came their way. They didn't make a hit, but an opening base on balls to Tommy Holmes was all they needed. A sacrifice, a bad throw and a fly did for the Cards.

Against the Braves' 12 hits the Cards made only five off Al Javery, who scored his third victory.

The Dodgers meantime maintained their pace-setting edge with a second straight win over the Pirates, who were knocked down in the third place, 8 to 3. Whit Wyatt went the route for the first time to score the win.

Rookie Willard Marshall hit his fifth and sixth home runs of the year and two singles to drive in six runs for the National league run-batted-in leadership as the New York Giants setback the Cincinnati Reds, 13 to 5.

Marshall has sent home 29 runs to date as a member of the Giants' new wrecking crew, including Manager Mel Ott, who also homered yesterday. Ray Starr, Paul Deringer, Elwell Blackwell and Jim Turner all saw service on the mound for the Reds, who face Hal Schumacher and Bob Carpenter.

A home run by Pitcher Claude Passeau in the third and a misjudged fly ball, plus a wild throw, plus a single all in the sixth gave the Chicago Cubs two runs and a 2 to 1 edge over the Philadelphia Phillies.

The American league was idle today's schedule calling for a double-header between the New York Yankees and the Tigers at Detroit, and three single games, Washington at Cleveland, Boston at St. Louis and Philadelphia at Chicago.

Rain Prevents Junior League Opener Friday

Ceremonies Are Postponed Until Monday Evening At Dean Park

Rain that bugbear of baseball fans, prevented the opening ceremonies in the American Legion Junior league, which were scheduled for Friday evening at Dean Park, and the program was postponed until Monday evening at 6:15 o'clock.

The same program as was previously announced will be carried out. There will be a flag-raising, speeches, music by the American Legion band, and other activities, the opening game being between the Moonies and the Dean Park Dodgers.

Scrap With Gobs Dean's First Tiff

"Fighting Leatherneck" For-sakes Ring Career For Recruiting Job

Staff Sergeant John L. Dean is his official title but in the fight world he is known as the "Slugging Leatherneck." That is, he was before the war began. Now he is giving all his time to aiding boys to don Marine uniforms and slug it out with the Japs.

We dropped around to the Marine recruiting office on the second floor of the post office to talk with the "Slugging Leatherneck" about things in general, Johnny, when asked how he came to be in the fight business gave this answer: "Well, I met up with a couple of Navy men when we were stationed in Los Angeles and it was fight or run. I didn't run."

"The athletic officer of our barracks saw me scrapping and after the two sailors went down for the count, he talked me into the ring. I fought out of New Castle for a long time."

We looked up the record and learned that the rugged, handsome officer had won 28 out of his last 29 fights. He lost one to Billy Soose out in California a few years ago that still rankles. "I should have beaten him," the slugging Marine said.

Asked if he were going to fight again soon, Dean said smilingly: "Don't you think we've got a big enough fight on our hands?"

Longshot Wins; Price $174.80

(International News Service) CHICAGO, May 16.—The spirit of the late "Bathhouse John" Coughlin, colorful figure in Chicago's roistering political circles in former years, would chortle how else could it know of the achievement of Karlspur.

Up to Thursday, Karlspur never had won a race in his two years of campaigning. At Sportsman's park, Karlspur, after lagging far behind in the seven-furlong event, came with a powerful rush in the stretch to get a nose decision from Helen Agnes and pay off at $174.80, $60.20 and $14.20 across the board.

NEW YORK, May 16.—Pete Reiser, Brooklyn star outfielder, has been reclassified by his draft board. Originally placed on 1-A, Reiser has been shifted to a 3-A because he contributes toward the support of his parents and four sisters.

City Leaguers Set For Sunday

Friday Battles Are Drenched; Four More Tussles Billed For Tomorrow

PLAN CEREMONY ON CROTON FIELD

Baseball was drenched here on Friday night.

Three City Baseball league series, originally billed for Tuesday night but postponed due to the elements, were scratched again and will probably be played Monday night.

In the meantime, loop rivals are looking forward to Sunday's engagements. Tomorrow's lineup brings together:

Lawrence Indies at Croton, Cascade street field.
Elder A. C. at Slovaks, Cedar street grounds.
West Side Tigers at Moose, Marshall field, Scott street.
Bessemer, at West Pittsburgh, field W. Pittsburgh-New Castle road.

All games start promptly at 3 o'clock.

Croton Ceremonies

Manager "Hop" Colalucia today announced that impressive ceremonies have been arranged for Croton's opening home game, starting at 2:30 o'clock. The Croton school band, led by Miss Dorothy Patch and Professor Hoffmaster, will participate. Flag raising exercises will form part of the program. Mrs. Florence Isabella, prominent Croton resident, will toss out the first ball.

Croton has a 1-1 mark to date, having whipped the West Side Tigers and stung by Bessemer. Andy "Feller" Sargent, ace Croton pitcher, will match offerings with Nickum or W. Cemer.

Bessemer and the Elders, with two victories, rule the roost. The Moose, West Side Tigers and Croton are stymied for the next slot with one win against a single setback—West Pittsburgh follows with an triumph against a pair of losses. The Lawrence Indies sport a similar record.

The Tigers-Moose embroglio on Marshall field shapes up as one of the feature tussles. The West Sides unhooked a lot of eel in mowing down the hard hitting West Pittsburgh outfit, Tuesday. Paul Morrison, who manages the sixth warders, will probably walk along the trail leading to the mound.

Another 14-carat affair will be unfurled at West Pittsburgh which will be invaded by Bessemer. The "Cement City" aggregation is among the favorites to wrap up the first half toga. Bessemer appears to have what the doctor ordered.

The rampaging Elder A. C. balanced at every position, bid for their third win at the expense of the Slovaks on Cedar street grounds. The victorious Slovaks feel confident of entering the winning chamber.

Umpires assigned today by Leo Hill: Indies at Croton-General and Tip Richards. Elders at Slovaks-Smolnick and Rotunno.

West Side at Moose-Price and McIntire. Bessemer at W. Pittsburgh-Gor-mael and Morgan.

Sportsmen Tour New Plot Sunday

Newly Acquired Grounds Located Near Harbor Bridge; Start At 2 O'Clock

Members of Lawrence County Sportsmen's association and non-members will tour the newly acquired grounds near Harbor bridge, on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The new grounds are ideally located and suited for the sportsmen's purposes. There is ample space for the skeet and trap shoot as well as the many other activities sponsored by the association.

Plans are underway now to establish rifle and pistol ranges as soon as possible. Fishermen will have plenty of space on the half-mile river front to enjoy the sport. There is ample space for boating, too—more than two miles of navigable water.

Officers and directors of the organization will conduct the tour which is open to the public.

Yale Is Favored To Capture Meet

(International News Service) CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 16.—The nimble-toed lads from Yale today loomed as the post favorites for the eighth annual running of the heptagonal games today in the Harvard Stadium.

The Eli team of Charlie Hoyt already has chalked up a dual meet victory over Princeton and ran off with the trophy in a gathering of athletes from Penn. Columbia, Navy and Princeton. Tomorrow's games will bring together Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Yale.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Indications are fishermen who have anticipated a trip to Canada will form other plans because of the gas rationing now in effect there. Under the new ruling visitors, besides the gas in the car tank, which can be full, are allowed a ration book good for no more than four units, even if they stay there a year. Each unit in the coupon book represents five imperial gallons, or 25 gallons. If a car from this side runs out of gas across the border there will be nothing left to do but have it towed to the nearest town where there is a railroad and ship it back home by freight.

Bill Clark poured over the recent account of the Weygant-Coulton fight in Erie and said that night he was in Eddie's corner in Erie. Eddie and Billy were great pals. And at the Bowlers banquet in the Eagles a few nights since Bob Shook recalled the Weygant-Verde fight here. Shook believes Verde should have been given the decision over the local boy and also recalled when Sully the Barber and Patsy Brannigan promoted the Eddie Wimler-Patsy Brannigan fight at Cascade Park ball field. He told how Buck Bradshaw who fought Young Buffalo in a preliminary, lacking ring shoes, wore a heavy pair of brogans into the ring. And then came Harry Evans, well known singer and a F. I. O. A. member. "I bet main-tan amateurs should fight two minutes rounds. Fans will get more action and that length of time will not be exhaustive," Evans declared.

While journeying Here and There we met Fitz Rodebaugh who is handling the Moose team and also a champion tree climber. However, it has been some time since Paul has climbed a tree. It isn't likely Paul will forget the night he climbed a tall tree and then when he got to the top of the tree someone turned out the electric lights and he had to descend in the dark.

Mentz Stratton, whose major league pitching career was cut short by a hunting accident which cost him a leg in 1938, has resigned as manager of the Lubbock Lubbers, West Texas-New Mexico Class D league club, stating he has found the going too rough for his condition and will retire to his Greenville, Texas home.

Corn will replace football at Golden Oaks park, near Rogersville Pa., where Rogersville and other teams staged athletic events. Lou Jenkins, former lightweight champion, has arrived in Pittsburgh to train for his May 25 bout with Fritz Zivic. There's an amateur fistic show here that night.

REGATTA TODAY
PRINCETON, N. J., May 16.—The annual Regatta for 150 pound crews was slated on Lake Carnegie late today with 13 boats from six colleges in the competition.

Angott Retains Fistic Coronet As Crowd Jeers

Little Allie Stolz Cheered By 16,099 Mad Fans; Lightweight Tiff A Lulu

(International News Service Sports Writer) NEW YORK, May 16.—The world's lightweight crown still rested on the bushy black brow of Champion Sammy Angott today—but it was a crown encircled with the boos and jeers of the mob.

For Sammy making his first defense of the title he lifted from Lew Jenkins last December, could do not better than earn a split decision over Little Allie Stolz of Newark before 16,099 citizens who sat in straining Madison Square Garden. Though Angott left with his title—Stolz walked to his dressing room through a torrent of cheering.

Stolz, in superb condition, scored the only knockdown of a hard battle, flooring Sammy for a count of 9 in the third round and was much the sharper puncher throughout. He had two rounds taken away from him for low punching and though he let Angott take the play away from him in the late rounds, seemed to have won by a clear enough margin.

Referee Frank Fullam thought so and gave him the fight nine rounds to six but Judge George Le Cron and John Porter voted eight rounds for Angott, six for the challenger, and called one even. This reporter's card gave it to Allie seven rounds to six with two even.

Angott made his best showing in the twelfth and thirteenth heats. He kept on top of Stolz, who seemed to be back as if to conserve his strength for the stretch drive and opened a small gash under Allie's left eye. Stolz landed a low blow in this frame, and was penalized by the referee but the champion took the thirteenth easily.

Low Blow Costly

Another penalty for hitting low caused Stolz the loss of the very important fourteenth heat. Allie really gave the champion a two handed lathering in this frame but saw it tipped off the record because of his own indiscretion.

The fifteenth was a wild rushin affair which Angott had a shade the best of and it was apparent from quick canvass of the ringside that many critics thought the fight too close to cost Sammy his championship.

That was the way it turned out to be but the mob, which was very much pro-Stolz (he was a 12 to 5 underdog) wouldn't take the verdict lying down.

They stood on their chairs and cheered and hooted and tossed a couple of cigar butts and newspapers down out of the gallery into the ring. They booed Angott lustily and cheered Little Stolz just as soundly as the tired boys climbed out of the ring and fought their way to the dressing room.

The gross receipts amounted to $49,014.

You Help Someone You Know

USO

When You Give to the USO

Question: Why does the USO need 32 million dollars? Is not that a lot to run a few hundred club-houses?

Answer: If running a few club-houses was the extent of work of the USO, there would be no need for 32 million dollars. The USO is going to increase the number of centers from 585 to 940 this year to take care of the greatly increased number of men in uniform; it is going to establish 17 more bases overseas; it is going to spend a million to help our men on leave enjoy themselves; and money for administration is needed.

Besides, the USO is going to follow our armies on maneuvers with cigarettes, food and stationery; it is going to enlarge its bus and railway booths to help more men, and it is going to bring even more entertainment to the boys who are lonely in camp—some four million dollars will be spent on this alone next year.

The USO is going to help our boys in every possible way; to do this it needs money; it must get all that money from us.

Carnegie-Illinois Breaks Production Records In April

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 16.—Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation reported today that its "soldiers in overalls" had broken all past records last month in the production of pig iron and steel ingots—more bad news for the Axis powers.

The corporation, largest of the U. S. Steel subsidiaries, announced that its daily average production of 47,000 tons of pig iron and 62,224 tons of steel ingots during April had exceeded any previous performance.

Among other new records announced by the company was one by the 140-inch plate mill in the Pittsburgh district; another by Carnegie Blast Furnace No. 4 which produced 32,600 net tons; a new world record at a 160-inch plate mill in the Chicago district; and a new record at a Gary open hearth department which produced 81,330 net tons during April.

STOCKS

Stock Market Shows Advance

Some Gains Are Made During Trading In New York Market Today

(International News Service) NEW YORK, May 16.—The stock market today advanced moderately in an extension of yesterday's rally. A few issues gained as much as a point.

Progress was slowed by the usual evening up for the week-end, but the list maintained a firm tone throughout the abbreviated session.

In the bond market speculative rail liens added modest gains to yesterday's climb, but most other sections were colorless. U. S. Government bonds were steady.

Electric Auto Lites again featured with an extreme gain of point to a new 1942 top of 26 1/2. Chrysler was up almost a point to within a fraction of the year's high.

Union Carbide, American Telephone, Westinghouse, J. I. Case and American Airlines were others to move up a point or more. Airline shares as a group turned quiet after yesterday's tumble.

Steel, mail orders, coppers, rails, electrical equipments, utilities and chemicals displayed a firm undertone.

There were a few laggards, including Procter & Gamble, Consolidated Aircraft and American and Foundry preferred. The latter hit a new 1942 low of 60.

Curb stocks gained fractions today. Aviation shares were prominent with Beech and Brewster moderately active. A few issues declined, including National Fuel Gas, Lone Star Gas and Cuban Atlantic Sugar.

Office Management Course Appeals To Women Of District

Many Attending State College Defense Center Course At Senior High School

Women have shown interest in the office management course, one of 27 classes being offered currently by the New Castle center of the Pennsylvania State college's engineering, science and management defense training program. It was announced by L. C. Black, administrative head of the local center.

Designed to fill the needs of war industry for trained office workers, this course, like the others here, is being held two evenings a week from seven to 10:30 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday, at New Castle senior high school. J. H. Earl McKenzie is the instructor.

Office management requires a prospective student to have at least a high school education or its equivalent, and a minimum of one year's practical office experience, such as is obtained through working in a responsible position in an industrial or manufacturing enterprise.

The course includes the study of the duties and responsibilities of the office manager, types of office organization, physical factors in office planning, the arrangement and layout of the office, office equipment, and organization of the work of the various departments, such as filing and stenographic sections, the preparation of an office manual, determining office costs and the selection and training of employees.

Purpose of the course is to train men and women for immediate employment as office managers in defense industries, to "upgrade" experienced clerical and office managers in war industries.

Ration Program Many Conflicts

Senator Vandenberg Says Officials Issue Many Conflicting Statements On Situation

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, May 16.—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), today declared that success of the entire rationing program is threatened by confusing and conflicting information issued by high government officials.

The Office of Price Administration, he said, should provide indisputable evidence of the need for every rationing program in order to win wide public acceptance and avoid bickering and dissatisfaction.

"I believe that the American people are willing to accept whatever the necessities dictate," said Vandenberg, "but the people should be shown the necessities."

"There should be far more accurate and indisputable evidence to the people of every region irrevocably proving the need of rationing. There has been too much confusion and contradiction of information that the people fail to be impressed with the sacrifices demanded."

High School Seniors May Join Marines

Staff Sergeant John L. Dean announced today that high school seniors who are 17 years of age and can get their parents' consent may enlist in the marine corps now and not be called until after their graduation.

Under this plan a high school recruit can go to Pittsburgh and take his physical examination, have all his papers signed and sealed, and be ready to leave after his high school graduation. Any high school senior who is interested is urged to see Sgt. Dean in his office at the Post Office building.

It is emphasized that the men must be over 17 and they must have their parents' consent.

Sergeant John L. Dean also announced that the collection of magazines for marines on foreign service has been very disappointing to date. Magazines are badly needed in the marine corps to help the boys while away what leisure they may have. Anyone who can help in this worthy cause is asked to get in touch with Sergeant Dean. He will be glad to call for the magazines if the donor cannot get them down to the Post Office.

Another Recruit Joins Marines

Philip H. Doyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Doyle, of R. F. D. No. 1, Franklin, was enlisted today through the New Castle marine recruiting office. Staff Sergeant John L. Dean announced that the total marine enlistments for May are 15, or an average of one a day.

New Castle continues to lead the rest of the sub-stations in the western Pennsylvania district in marine enlistments.
